

Tasks

- The couple must go from one point in the room to another, but one of the student's legs must be tied.
- The couple must explain why they like eating X, but one of the students cannot use the words- I, Like, The name of the food, Yes and No.
- The couple must go from point in the room to another, but one of the student's eyes must be closed.
- The couple must explain a certain topic that one student knows very well and the other does not.
- The couple must say the same sentence, to the teachers choosing, one in the local language and the other in a different language.
- The couple must eat candy, or any other food the teacher brings, but one student's hands must be tied.

Work sheet

- Describing the Event
- Describe the event shortly and simply, without expressing your opinion.
- The Relevant Characters
- Whose dilemma is it?
- What is the practical question they are facing?
- Collision of Values
- Between which values is the person deciding?
- Solution
- What options do they have?
- Think of a few ways to face the dilemma and explain the pros and cons of each suggestion.
- Conclusion and Explanation
- Determinación y argumentos